Remember:

- Defining relative clauses specify a noun or pronoun in the main clause and are necessary if we want to understand the meaning of a sentence. We do not write them with commas. Example, I saw the girl who was outside our house. (*If we omit who, it is not clear what girl we are talking about).
- Non-defining relative clauses only describe a preceding noun or pronoun (add some information about them), but do not specify them. They must be written with commas. Example, My father, who is 65 now, still work.
- Rewrite the complete sentences with who or which. Use commas if necessary.

Example*: My boyfriend is 22 now comes from York. - My boyfriend, who is 22 now, comes from York*
